Playing:

Hide and Seek:

This game uses just the elf unit. All players close their eyes or go into another room. An adult – or one of the players – finds a safe spot to hide the elf. This person turns the unit on by sliding the switch, on the elf's shelf will play music or make other sounds. At the same time all players open their eyes or enter the room and listen for the elf. The first player to find him wins.

Sleigh Ride

This game uses the elf unit and the gift tokens. Each player takes a sleigh and puts it on the floor. Put it next to something (like your shoes) so that you'll remember that it's yours! Play the same as Hide and Seek but whenever a player finds the elf, they get a gift token to put on their sleigh. The first player to get four gift tokens wins.

Near the North Pole

This game uses the elf unit and the North Pole token; it's especially good for younger players. Play the same as Hide and Seek or Sleigh Ride except the person who hides the elf puts the North Pole token nearby, where the players can easily see it. This gives them a hint that the elf is nearby!

High/Low

This game uses the elf unit and the High/Low cards; also especially good for younger players. The person who is going to be hiding the elf mixes the cards face down, then turns over the top card for all to see. That tells them if they will be hiding the elf "high" (eye level up to a stretch) or "low" (near or on the floor). Play using the same rules as Hide and Seek or Sleigh Ride.

Team Play: If you have 5 or more players, let them help out different players on each turn and if you have 8 or more players, form teams of two, then have the others help out different teams on each turn.
