HOLD ON CLUMSY GAME Rules

Object

Be the player who doesn't make Clumsy fall off the wall.

Contents

Clumsy figure, game base, 2 wall frames, 44 brick pieces, 2 wands, game board, label sheet.

Set-up

Use the back of the package as a guide. Place a label on each side the game base. Place the base on the playing table.

Insert the wall frames into the slots on the base:

- Take one frame and hold it so that the end with the two tabs faces down. Look at the package back to see the direction the "steps" of the frame should be facing. Now press the back tab of the frame down against the slot and press the other tab down. Make sure the wall frame clicks into the base so it's flat against the base. Insert the second frame into the base.

Starting at the bottom, place four brick pieces on each level, flat side down. Keep making levels until all 11 levels have been made. Carefully place the Clumsy figure on the top near the middle of the wall. Players should sit opposite each other with the game in between them; each player takes a wand.

Playing

The youngest player starts the game by tapping out any one of the bricks. The next player goes and so on. Players must push out the first brick they touch.

Winning the Game

When one player makes Clumsy fall off, the game ends and the other player wins.

Team Play

Divide into two teams. Alternate which player gets to use the wand on your team's turns.

Note: With younger players, you can let everyone touch one brick, decide not to tap it out, but they must tap out the second brick they touch.
