

Object:

Be the first player to hit all eight of your opponent's aliens out of the game.

Contents:

Game base, 32 marbles, 2 shooters, 16 alien pieces, 16 stands.

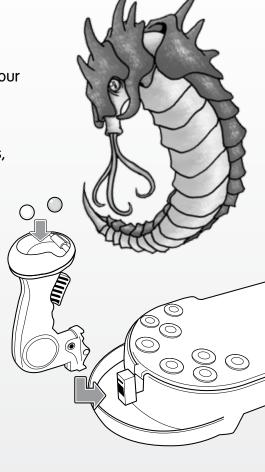

Set Up:

As shown in the illustration, press the two shooters into place on the sides of the game base until the center posts of the shooter snap into the holes of the part that's already connected to the base.

Each player takes a set of same-color stands, and places 1 each of the 8 different aliens into the stands. Now place your aliens anywhere in the 8 holes on your side of the game. The post of the bases should hang under the clear top of the game.

Divide the marbles between the two players; you can mix the colors or not because the colors don't affect game play. Each player places as many marbles as they can into the top of their shooter and puts the remaining marbles in the holding area under the shooter.

Playing:

At the count of 1-2-3 both players start shooting by pressing their trigger. The shooter also moves left and right so that you can aim for specific aliens. Keep shooting, using any marbles that end up in your holding area until one player's aliens have all been hit out of the game.

Ending and winning the game:

The player with any aliens left in the game wins.

Tournament play:

Play for the best out of 3 or 5 games.
