

ON A ROLL GAME RULES

Object:

Be the first player to put a Poké Ball token on each of the 7 scoring spaces of your game board.

Contents:

7 dice, dice label sheet, dice cup, 4 game boards, 28 Poké Ball tokens.

Set Up:

Place the Poké Ball label on any side of the blue game die.

On each of the remaining six dice place two Shaymin, two Regigigas and two Giratina in any order. Remove the Poké Ball tokens from the sheet and give each player seven. Each player takes one game board.

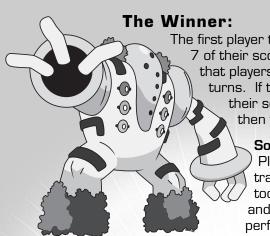

Playing:

The youngest player goes first then play passes to the left. On each turn players start by rolling all 7 dice.

If the Poké Ball comes up the turn ends and that player does not score for that round.

If the Poké Ball does not come up the player may set aside any of the 6 Pokémon dice to use for scoring. If these dice make up one of the patterns on the game board the player may place a token on that scoring space.

If the dice do not match any of the patterns, the player can set aside any dice they want to to try to get a pattern they need. They reroll the remaining dice, including the Poké Ball. The player may now add any of these dice to those already set aside, and score if possible. Players may even take back some dice and set aside different ones. If the player still does not have a score after two rolls, they continue to roll as many times as needed, as long as the Poké Ball doesn't turn up. A player may complete only one pattern in a turn. Once a space on the game board is covered, players may not score on that space again during the game.

The first player to place 7 Poké Ball tokens on all 7 of their scoring spaces is the winner. (Note that players must have an equal number of turns. If two or more players complete their scoring boards in the same turn, then they are both tied winners).

Solitaire Play:

Play one complete game and keep track of the number of turns you took to win the game. Play again and try to win in fewer turns. A perfect score is 7 turns.
